SUCCESSOR

To One of the State's Educators at Charleston Not Yet Chosen.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 14.—Prof. Francis Myers Longanecker, who has been supervisor of examinations in the state department of schools for the last three and one-half years, and who recently tendered his resignation, to accept the position of principal of the Parkersburg High school, will leave next week to take up his new duties. The new position was offered to Prof. Longanecker without his solicitation carrying with it a salary larger than his present position pays. Before entering the state department of schools Mr. Longanecker was principal of the Charleston High school, coming to Charleston from Bethany College in 1906. He was professor in Latin at Bethany College for two years, going there from the University of Michigan, where he received his A. M. His A. B. was secured at Hiram College in Ohio in 1899.

At Parkersburg Mr. Longanecker will succeed Prof. C. L. Wilson. Mr. Longanecker is one of six college men employed in the department of schools, and since he has been in his present position has conducted fourteen examinations, and previously served on the grading board. During this time the system, said to be one of the best in use in the country, attained its present high standard. While principal of the local High school he was largely instrumental in putting in increased laboratory work, added French and commercial courses, and otherwise improved the course of study.

Mr. Longanecker will immediately move his family to Parkersburg so as to be ready to take up his new duties as soon as the school opens in September. No selection of a successor to Mr. Longanecker has been made by State Superintendent of Schools M. P. Shawkey, and it is not likely any will be made at this time. The last uniform examination for the year has been held and in consequence the work of that branch of the department will not be heavy for some time.
